

You are warmly invited to attend our AGM at Millbank (or on Zoom if you cannot attend in person), Friday 27 January 2023
followed by a Zoom talk from the Netherlands, AGM 1730-1815hrs; Zoom Talk 1830hrs

Our invited speaker, Colonel (retd) Walter Henny, presents
'Developments in Military Medicine'

Proceeds will be donated to the Museum of Military Medicine

Colonel Henny is a highly respected officer, now retired from the Royal Netherlands Army Reserve. His civilian post was staff surgeon at University Hospital Rotterdam. He remains actively involved in trauma training and education, with several trauma publications to his name. He is well known to many in the UK's Defence Medical Services, Reserves and Regulars, having played a very active role for many years in CIOMR (The Interallied Confederation of Medical Reserve Officers, <https://ciomr.org/>), including as President and secretary-general. Since 2006 he has been the principal organizer, CIOMR Annual Combat Casualty Care Competition. He also served for over 20 years, until 2018, on the COMEDS/NATO Military Medical Training Working Group, helping ensure that advances in battlefield medicine were incorporated into training throughout NATO.

In his talk, which is open to all, Colonel Henny will give us the benefit of his international perspective, comparing recent developments in military medicine in the Netherlands with developments in other NATO countries, particularly the UK and USA.

Prior registration required. AGM (members only) at 1730hrs, Talk at 1830hrs.
